Sangyeon Pak is an assistant Professor in the School of Electronic and Electrical Engineering at Hongik University, Korea. Prior to joining Hongik University, he was a postdoctoral researcher (2019-2022) in the department of physics at Sungkyunkwan University. He received his Ph.D. from University of Oxford and B.S. from University of Wisconsin-Madison. His research involves the growth of 2D materials, exploration of fundamental physical properties and new functions, and the design and development of novel nanoscale devices for next generation electronics and optoelectronics devices.
